

PANGRAMMAR

September 18 – November 1, 2015

Opening reception: Friday, September 18, 6–9pm

P!, 334 Broome St, New York City

Like the quick brown fox that jumps over a lazy dog, PANGRAMMAR is a group exhibition of over 26 works that each depict a single letter. These objects include pieces of art and design ranging from contemporary to historical, mass-produced to unique, in two-, three-, and four-dimensions. Over the course of the show's run, PANGRAMMAR will rearrange itself periodically to spell different sentences and create new meaning. Jackdaws love my big sphinx of quartz.
